Deep Roots Tall Trees presents

NATURAL VESTIGE

How do you make a tree move?

Experiencing shadows in the woods at dusk, where light and technology will play with our perception.

Starting with a short intro on working with light and technology, we will have a look at small portable light kits consisting of a light, cable and battery.

Forming small groups, we will take these kits into the forest and create light installations that play with shadows, movement and our perception. Together with the group, we will discuss what we see. The workshop will end at the café of The Cube, where we can continue our discussions around a welcome drink.

NB. There will be time to photograph the installations. For those bringing a camera, consider bringing a tripod as well, since we will work in low light conditions.
