Our Woods: Explore and celebrate Corby's Woods. In October, you can experience 9 different events led by acknowledged experts in their fields. Come along, have a go, enjoy yourself!

Walking Stories - an audio walk for woods and parks

This first event in October is led by Charlotte Spencer Projects who have taken this critically acclaimed show across England and Europe.

Do you like listening to music while you walk? Does it sometimes make you feel like you're in a film? Walking Stories could be just for you! Discover your local park in a completely new light. Listen to instructions and music, and take a journey with us! Without you there isn't a show, so come and find us on 1st or 15th October. Bring your friends. Nothing scary or embarrassing, this calming walk in the park is suitable for all ages over 6 years.

"Contemplative and profound, it is one of the most calming, quietly beautiful and evocative outdoor pieces I have ever experienced." (Fringe Review, Brighton International Festival 2014)

The Lost Art of Mushrooming

You might be surprised by the many different mushrooms you can find in the centre of Corby, but they are there!

This day, led by fungi expert John Haughton on Sunday 2nd October, will open your eyes to a feast to be found, photographed and eaten.

Climbing Trees for Grown-Ups A weekend of Childrens' Games for adults

Would you like to climb a tree again like you did when you were a child? Need someone to just give you the confidence to do it? If so, one of these sessions is for you! On Saturday 8th October, Anthony Schrag will support you all the way up - AND down again!

On the same day, Jack Cooke, celebrated author of The Tree Climber's Guide, will be giving an illustrated talk. He is "one of the publishing sensations of the year: a book on the joys of climbing a tree in the urban jungle." The Daily Mail. The book aims to reconnect people to nature in the heart of the city and provide a bird's eye view of urban living, from the wildlife in the trees to the commuters on the street.

Sing in the Woods

This is not to be missed if you're interested in listening to the sounds of the woods and recreating them with your voice and rhythms back indoors. A fantastic opportunity to come to an event lead by Artistic Director of Deep Roots Tall Trees, Barb Jung. She is as well respected in America and Australia as she is in this country for her flair, generosity and intelligence, as well as her talents as a singer and songwriter. Join Barb on the afternoon of Sunday 16th October.

Walking, Looking, Drawing

All her life, painter and printmaker, Carry Akroyd, has drawn her inspiration from the landscape, and especially Northamptonshire. Her work has been widely published, commissioned and exhibited. On Saturday 22nd October, Carry will introduce you to a variety of drawing techniques which will open your eyes to seeing the woodlands afresh and will enable you to explore and develop your own skills.

Learn To Know and Love Your Leaves

Drop into the Woodlands Cabin on Sunday 30th October to have fun making leaf prints. You can choose to be accompanied on a short walk to find and identify different leaf shapes and there will be several artists to help you make prints of them. Open to all.

Find all the angles on Corby's beautiful woodlands

Late Developers Photographic Group and Corby Community Arts are leading a series of photographic walks through Corby's varied woods. We will be out at all times of day and through the seasons. Use your own camera or phone, or borrow one of ours. At the "Our Woods" finale in May there will be a display of the images participants will make. Next month we meet on 8 Oct at East Carlton Cafe at 10am, on 10 Oct at Weldon Woodland Park at 10.30am and on 27 Oct at East Carlton Park at 1pm. For more information, call Corby Community Arts on 07547040764.
